

The Last of the Bushrangers

Across

- Which member of the Kelly Gang was the first to die? (5)
- After the Wombat Ranges killings of the police officers, the police were supplied with what type of guns, costing the Government about 8 pounds each? (8)
- In which Australian State was Ned Kelly born? (8)
- The amount of money found on Ned Kelly

Down

- The Queensland trackers were waiting here to go home before being redirected to eventually assist at the Glenrowan siege. (8)
- One of the author's two mates, upon first arriving in Australia, was a runaway _____ from Norfolk Island. (7)
- The Glenrowan siege took place at the foot of a mount known as whose Look-

- when captured. (10)
11. Arthur Loftus Mauld _____, a sergeant of police at Wangaratta, was the person who shot out the legs of Ned Kelly in his armour and tackled him to the ground. (6)
 12. The name of the school-master who hailed down and alerted the train of police officers, trackers and reporters that the Kelly Gang had sabotaged the train tracks just ahead, a little bit before Glenrowan, using a red scarf and a candle. (6)
 14. As a trade _____ "does not pay." (11)
 20. Kennedy's body, when found, was covered with a _____. (4)
 22. Lonergan had received seven bullet wounds, one of them through the _____. (7)
 25. The marks on Ned Kelly's _____ showed that he had been hit on the _____ seventeen times with bullets. (6)
 26. The Kelly Gang subsidized and instituted a body of spies known by the name of "Bush _____." (10)
 29. The name of the street from which station the special train was despatched after the murder of Aaron Sherritt. (7)
 30. What was done to four horses saddled and tied up to the back-door of the Glenrowan Hotel to prevent the sudden escape of the Kelly Gang? (4)
 31. The author was the youngest son of a family of how many? (9)
 36. Manner in which Ned Kelly was executed. (7)
 37. FRANCIS AUGUSTUS HARE, LATE SUPERINTENDENT OF VICTORIAN POLICE was born in which country? (11)
 38. The name of the priest who ran into the burning hotel to rescue the badly wounded railroad plate-layer Martin Sherry who afterwards died. (7)
 39. Which of the Kelly Gang was the "Last of the Bushrangers"? (3)
 40. The surname of the senior constable of police who was in charge of the Glenrowan siege after the author was badly wounded. (5)
 41. The number of banks which the Kelly Gang robbed in Queensland. (4)
 42. Ned Kelly's head, chest, back, and sides were all protected with heavy plates of iron which were how many inches thick? (7)
 5. The number of children who were amongst all the people taken prisoner by the Kelly Gang during their first bank robbery. (5)
 7. The Kelly Gang came to Glenrowan to do what? (4)
 10. The Kelly Gang seldom, if ever, made a victim of a _____ man. (4)
 13. Constable Bracken jumped on a horse, rode off to get further assistance and returned with the police from where? (10)
 15. Gold digging licences cost thirty _____ a month. (9)
 16. The armour used by the Kelly Gang was made out of this. (12)
 17. When robbing the bank at Euroa, the Kelly Gang destroyed the _____ line. (9)
 18. The Kelly Gang was dreadfully afraid of the black trackers from this state. (10)
 19. Ned Kelly was taken to Benalla, and next day he was forwarded to which gaol where he was eventually executed? (9)
 21. The day of the week on which the Glenrowan siege took place. (6)
 23. Stringy _____ Ranges, where the police officers Kennedy, Scanlan, M'Intyre and Lonergan were killed. (4)
 24. After their first bank robbery, the Kelly Gang headed for these mountain ranges. (11)
 27. Town in which the Kelly Gang robbed their second bank. (10)
 28. How many of the Kelly Gang survived the Glenrowan siege? (3)
 32. Ned Kelly's first or given name. (6)
 33. The gang never behaved badly to, or assaulted, a _____, but always treated them with consideration and respect, although frequently compelled by the exigencies of the situation to put them to considerable inconvenience. (5)
 34. Superintendent Hare approached the station and stated that he had been wounded in the _____. The wound was a very bad one, and was bleeding very much. The ball passed through, shattering the bone and severing the artery. (5)
 35. The name of Ned Kelly's sister who did not want her brothers to surrender at Glenrowan. (4)

